ORGAN DONOR

Tax cuts may be coming soon to some Pennsylvanians. State Senators Lindsay Williams and Lynda Schlegel Culver are proposing legislation that will help bear some of the cost burden to living organ donors. The bill will allow donors to deduct up to $10,000 related to their donations. Allowable expenses can include things like travel, lodging, lost wages, and medical expenses. The goal is to make living donations more of an option for people with loved ones on the transplant list.

DROPPING OUT

Dr. Dave Oxman has officially suspended his campaign for the 3rd Congressional District. The news came out yesterday, when Dr. Oxman officially made the announcement, and in doing so, endorsed Ala Stanford, a fellow physician who remains in the race along with six other candidates.

LOCKED UP

Justice was served this week as Attorney General Dave Sunday announced that a fraudster was sentenced to prison and will be forced to pay over half a million dollars in restitution. The Dover man pled guilty to defrauding banks out of millions of dollars; he was the ringleader for an operation that ended in 24 people facing charges. AG Sunday said that the scheme didn't just steal money, it also took Pennsylvanians' sense of security.

FIGHT NIGHT

President Trump is getting hyped for the UFC Freedom 250. On June 14th, Trump is hosting fight night on the White House South Lawn, partnering with the UFC. According to the President, everyone wants a ticket: legislators, lobbyists, etc. There will be 5,000 VIP seats, and many are planned to go to military personnel.

CESAR CHAVEZ CANCELED

Cesar Chavez, the late farmworker labor leader, is honored and celebrated on March 31st. However, this year, people are canceling celebrations and other honors in his name in wake of sexual abuse accusations. The labor rights activist will not be recognized in various states, including Arizona.
