FOLLOW THE MONEY

The first quarter numbers are in, and Josh Shapiro has outraised Stacy Garrity in their race for Governor. Garrity reported having about $1.5 million in available funds while Shapiro is sitting with $36.1 million. Garrity credits the difference in funding to their different contributors; she focuses more on hardworking Pennsylvanians while claiming Shapiro has received checks from billionaires.

NEW EXHIBIT

The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission (PHMC) has announced a new serial exhibit. The exhibit is called Seeing Double: Pennsylvania's Industrial Revolution in 3D and is designed to celebrate America's 250th anniversary. Four PHMC museums will host the exhibit across Pennsylvania. The exhibit will highlight PA's industrial history and will utilize blue and red 3D glasses to bring history to life.

COLLAPSE

Yesterday afternoon, a parking garage under construction in Grays Ferry, Philadelphia collapsed. The collapse left one dead and two people missing. Three people were successfully rescued. Searches are still being conducted for the two missing individuals. City officials have announced that the Philadelphia Department of Licenses and Inspections will be conducting an investigation into the collapse.

FOR SALE

Harrisburg Area Community College is undergoing significant restructuring to address a projected $10 million deficit for the 2026-27 academic year. As part of those efforts, it is selling two buildings that currently stand as part of the York campus. While they are not planning to close the campus, they are downsizing campus infrastructure based on student enrollment, maintenance needs, and building utilization.

TREATS

Chocolate lovers are in for a treat. Hershey's announced that they're bringing back some highly requested fan favorites. The flavors will include a Reese's PB cup with marshmallow and a Reese's PB&J cup. If you want to enjoy, you better act fast, both flavors are only available for a limited time.
