The State House and State Senate will convene at 11am.

STEEL CITY

U.S. Steel has announced it will invest up to $2.5 billion into its Mon Valley Works facilities, saving 3,000 steelworker jobs in the Pittsburgh region. Economists project this investment will lead to $1.7 billion generated for Pennsylvania's economy. Part of the investment includes a new hot strip steel mill in Braddock, which will replace the 87-year-old Irvin mill in West Mifflin. This investment comes as part of U.S. Steel's goal to invest $11 billion into its operations following its acquisition by Nippon Steel last year.

LAST SPLASH

Hersheypark's famous water ride, The Tidal Force, is scheduled to close permanently after 32 years in operation. While Hersheypark did not provide a reason for the ride's closure in yesterday's announcement, the park did share earlier this year that they will be making large updates to The Boardwalk, including the addition of two new water areas. For now, guests will have until September 7th to have one last splash on The Tidal Force. ...Bringing back Canyon River Rapids??

QUILL-ADELPHIA

Still figuring out ways to celebrate America's 250th birthday? On July 12th at 2:00 PM, Harrisburg's Gamut Theatre will premiere QUILL-ADELPHIA, a new and original musical by Mechanicsburg playwright Cindy Dlugolecki. The show tells the story of Jacob Shallus, the figure responsible for handwriting the U.S. Constitution, who also happens to be a distant relative of

TOUCHDOWN IN HARRISBURG

Saquon Barkley, a Harrisburg native and a Penn State graduate (and Philadelphia Eagle) hosted a youth camp at Bishop McDevitt High School last Saturday. The running back led students through various drills, skills, and sessions, giving them a firsthand taste of the NFL experience. Known for his dedication to giving back, Barkley regularly hosts youth camps, and his return to Harrisburg was celebrated as a full-circle moment for the community.

JUNE IS IN FULL BLOOM

Thousands of roses, featuring more than 115 varieties, are set to blossom this month at the Hershey Gardens as a celebration honoring National Rose Month. In recognition of National Rose Day on June 12, guests can enjoy guided tours of the gardens on June 13 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and dads receive free admission on Father's Day for a special family outing. Starting June 22, the Zoology Zone interactive cart will be in the gardens all week, featuring a variety of reptiles, insects, and more for visitors to explore. If your name is Rose, you can stop and smell the savings with free admission all month long!

Happy Birthday
