WELL DESERVED

Congratulations are in order for Elizabeth “Lizzy” Seidel, who was recognized as the 2026 New Professional Librarian by the PA Library Association. Seidel serves as the Executive Director at the Joseph T. Simpson Library in Mechanicsburg and was previously a staff member in the York County and Dauphin County systems. This award goes to “those who go above and beyond the call of duty to support the work of libraries throughout the commonwealth.”

GAME IS GAME

State Senator John Kane (D-Chester) will be introducing the "Protect Our Games Act" which will require video game manufacturers to give customers options for continued use and refunds if a game is no longer available online. Senator Kane said there will be a 60-day notice to players about changes to video game features, as well as notice given when a developer plans to get rid of a game. This act would protect digital games, as physical discs are becoming a thing of the past.

REIGN CHECK

"No Kings: Vote Early" will be held nationwide on October 17th. Organizers of the event say it's not a protest, but a day to bring communities together to make a plan to vote early. This upcoming rally will focus on voting and voter advocacy. Hundreds of cities will participate, including an event at the Pennsylvania Capitol Steps in Harrisburg at 10:00 AM.

SEE THE RESULTS

GLP-1 manufacturers are facing lawsuits from patients who say they suddenly lost vision while taking the medication. These patients were diagnosed with non-arteritic anterior ischemic optic neuropathy, or NAION, which leads to sudden and often permanent vision loss. Experts say evidence linking GLP-1 use to NAION is mixed, and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration doesn't require a warning label for this side effect. The FDA is currently investigating a potential link between the medication and the illness, but researchers note that patients may have other conditions that raise the risk of NAION independent of GLP-1 use.

NETFLIX AND CHILL

The Netflix House at King of Prussia Mall is expanding its 120,000-square-foot entertainment venue with KPOP Demon Hunters: The Immersive Experience, an interactive attraction where guests join the world of HUNTR/X through singing, dancing, and demon-hunting adventures across immersive Seoul-inspired sets using 3D technology. The experience opens November 20, with ticket sales beginning September 22 for Mastercard holders, September 29 for Netflix members, and October 1 for the general public.
